

Drifters

Oh, Darlin', when I met you
I was driftin' on an empty sea
And Darlin', when you snagged me
I'd been driven from a broken dream

Now it's you who keeps driftin'
But you've always made it back to me
You're swirling in a tempest
Towering waves are all that you can see

We both have shied away from
Something that loomed darkly, eerily
So distant in the future
And no one could know what that would be

But Darlin', when you drifted
You always made it back here to me
I am afraid that this time
You have drifted too far out to sea

This time when you drift back to me
Drifted away is where I'm gonna be
This time when you drift back to me
Drifted away is where I'm gonna be

© 2009 Gordee Headlee (Hole Shebang Tunes, ASCAP)